MUFG Hires Harvey Colli to Lead Transaction Banking in Latin America

SÃO PAULO, Brazil, August 16, 2016 – Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group, Inc. (MUFG), one of the world's leading financial groups, today announced it hired Harvey Colli as a Managing Director to oversee its Transaction Banking business in Latin America.

Colli, who assumes this new role after 15 years in senior positions with JPMorgan Chase and Citigroup, will focus on Latin American and Japanese corporate clients. Based in São Paulo, he reports to Junsuke (John) Koike, MUFG's Regional Head for Latin America; and Head of Transaction Banking Sales for Asian Corporate Banking, Latin America, and Canada, Martin Nonna.

"Latin America is a vital and fertile region for MUFG's Transaction Banking business, and that's why we wanted Harvey for our team," said Koike. "I'm very confident that his track record of growing businesses, leadership capabilities, and experience working with treasurers and CFOs will prove exceedingly valuable to clients in this burgeoning area of our business."

Nonna added: "Harvey's depth of experience in transaction banking and commitment to fostering client relationships will help us continue to expand our business in Latin America. This hiring is part of a long-term investment and commitment of MUFG in the region, where the bank aims to be one of the main providers of off-shore services for the large Latin American companies and of local products for the subsidiaries of Japanese and selected multinational companies that we serve globally."

Previously, Colli was the head of JP Morgan Chase's Treasury Services business in Brazil, serving local and multinational clients in the corporate and financial institutions segments. At Citigroup, Colli held a range of positions including the head of the bank's International Cash Management business, where he had responsibility for the business and its products in Brazil.
